A GREAT NOTION

LOWELLIAN '73

SOMETIMES DISCOVERY

All things that man has accomplished during his short stay on this earth have come as a result of a Great Notion — the wheel, electricity, the sewing machine. Even this book is a result of an idea that someone had. However, not all great ideas are easily carried out. For example, take man's ambition to fly. This great notion tormented many brains before Orville and Wilbur Wright finally succeeded in flying. All the great ideas before this time had failed. The spoken word was a great idea somewhere back in history and it led to the written words printed in this book. By using these written words, teachers are able to communicate thoughts from the past to the students of today. For this reason, schools are built beckoning young people to come and gain knowledge.

COME TO OPEN DOORS WITH OPEN MINDS

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breath free. The wretched refuse of your teeming shores. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me. I lift my lamp beside the golden door!" So read Emma Lazerus words at the base of our Statue of Liberty, but do they speak only of our customs offices? Or, rather, do they speak for all of America and her schools as well? The Constitution guarantees everyone the opportunity for an education. Yes, education for "the huddled masses", "the wretched", and the "tempest-tost" people of our United States Education's doors are open to all.

LEARNING!

Learning through books with the help of teachers, Lowell High's student body gains knowledge. Equipped with this new material, students are inspired to create their own ideas which may someday become reality as did the school in which the students are studying. All great things stem from "Great Notions."

VOCATIONAL ED. VS. COLLEGE PREP.

Learning comes in many different shapes and sizes, and the educational facilities at Lowell High School are no different. The student can choose between a college prep course and a vocational education course of study here, and both allow the individual student to create his own ideas in his particular area of interest. Hopefully some of their ideas will become successful and merit labeling as "Great Notions."

We,
the students of Lowell
High School do hereby present
a collection of Great Notions.

AFTER SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

After school, we the students of Lowell High School could go on home and watch our televisions or listen to our rock and roll music. However, many of the students prefer to remain after school to "broaden our character and shorten the gap between student and teacher." Do the teachers enjoy staying with us during our various activities? Just ask any one of them. They love every minute of it. As a result of our sacrificed evenings, we hope to find even more ways of expressing our "Great Notions."

Athletic events and practices, our malistic endeavors, homework, and fun are just a few of the mysterious reasons the students here stay after school. The many parents that provide transportation for these active students certainly deserve credit for their work in allowing more students to discover ideas.

STUDENTS ARE PEOPLE TOO!

Education and discovery of great ideas are not found only in school. Many are discovered in the home such as the dish washer (where would we be without it?) and the telephone. Relaxation is also a specialty of the home because it prepares us for the time when we may be called upon to find our own "Great Notion."

NIGHT-TIME HAPPENINGS

Lowell has added on many new night-time activities for its students this year. Dante's, WLCI, and the new 606 are favorite hang-outs along with the old-fashioned Tonic. With many of these available sources of entertainment it's no wonder that students are rarely found at home during the evening. Cupid might have something to do with this. All of these things stem from brilliant ideas. Perhaps you, too, have brilliant ideas of your own from time to time. SOMETIMES A GREAT NOTION

THE MOCK ELECTION WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

Starting where the Mock Democratic Convention left off, L.H.S. students staged a Mock Election. After four and a half weeks of planning the events leading to the election started.

Registration week was first. Precincts were organized and students began to register. Then the campaigning started. Literature, buttons, pencils, and stickers were just a few of the many things distributed as Rally Day approached.

Classes were dismissed and candidates were invited. Dr. Joseph Basile, Mike Cullom, Former Senator Bernard Konrady, Ernest Niemeyer, Dr. Harold Negley, and George Dragus were among the candidates who attended.

Mock Election 1972 was a great success and learning experience for everyone.

TRIAL STRETCHES ON FOR THREE LONG DAYS

Mr. Lowe was murdered last fall before homeroom. This was the beginning of the case that rocked the school. The case of the "People vs. Maxine Lowe."

Who could have committed this crime? Was it his wife; Maxine, the hotel owner, the cleaning lady, or was it someone else?

What followed was the most controversial trial in L.H.S. history. The variety of witnesses offered humorous and dramatic accounts of the murder. Midway through the trial, a shocking turn-of events put the case in a new perspective. This drama changed the lives of many but none as Maxine Lowe.

THE LIGHT AND SOUND AROUND

It was a successful first year for the Light and Sound Club. In past years the Light and Sound "crew" consisted of no more than four members. This year it was formed into a club. Their purpose of being is to set lights and sound effects for such activities as plays, Jr. Miss, Mother's Tea, Graduation, Banquets, etc.

MUSIC MAKERS 1973; IMPROVED

In the past years, there has been a noticeable improvement in the band. This improvement has brought about better playing and marching abilities, better contribution to school spirit, and in general, a better attitude. Mr. Crane is the man behind it all.

The band contributes its talents to L.H.S. in many ways by parades, half-time shows at both football and basketball games, concerts, and various other performances. Most of all, the band contributes its talents to arousing school spirit. Their stimulating marches through the school add tremendously to student interest and participation.

Action and determination were fighting words for the L. H. S. band this year. Every member took action and got involved as the band pushed through their eleven-month season. ## A BEAUTIFUL GIRL IS LIKE A JUNIOR MISS Judy Finney's mimicry of Lili Tomlin's character, Edith Ann, was a determining factor in her victory. Debbie Hennin followed closely with a song and dance. Kassi Mitchell was second runner up followed by Susan McLellan whose uneven bar routine kept everyone on the edge of their seats. Sue Nash captured the Talent Award with an excerpt from Miracle Worker. Marianne Martinsson graciously accepted the Miss Congeniality Award. To earn this, Marianne recited a poem while playing the piano. Perhaps the most exciting part of the evening was the physical fitness routine, "Anchors Away" and "Stars and Stripes Forever." All in all, the evening was enjoyable for all involved.

This year's faculty play, "The True Story of Robin Hood" was hilarious as usual. Anything that makes the faculty look dumber than they ordinarily do is bound to be funny.

This satire on that famous legend followed the main idea pretty well with only a few minor changes. Although all the teachers deserve praise, some of the more memorable performances were given by Friar Cluck, Little Red Hood and Nipper the Wonder Dog.

CHOIR — THEY SING A RAINBOW

Success marked the year for the Lowell High Choir Program. The formation of a swing choir was an exciting change for Lowell High. Besides singing for various groups around the community, several choir members sang in the State Choral Festival at Indianapolis and the State Choir Contest where two Lowell Choir members tried out and qualified for all State Choir.

CHOIR MUSICAL SPECTACULAR

The hard work of the cast and director Ric McFadden (a student teacher for choir this year) made the choir musical a magnificent success. The play ran for two nights and it drew large crowds both times. Much work was needed on costumes and make-up, but with the help of a fine back-stage crew, it all got done. The cast also was forced to sacrifice many of their other activities and stay long hours after school, some times as late as midnight, to put together such a fine production. Set in San Francisco, the tale involves Orientals caught up in an American love affair. Steve Sharkey and Debbie Hoover did outstanding jobs as Wang Ta and Mei Li.

The Student Council this year was an organization under scrutiny and investigation, but they still functioned well under the stress. The council once again provided the leadership and stability to the student body. Hard-working president, Jeff Gunning, was the extremely competent leader of the council. Backed by a busy and energetic council, Jeff's job was much easier. Although the council was criticized throughout the year, none of its detractors attended the meetings or offered solutions. All in all, the year was a good one for the Student Council.

SUNSHINE, HOTDOGS AND COATS

Lowell Senior High School has good Samaritans in the form of the Sunshine Club. This club performs such deeds as making flowers and Valentine boxes and sending these along with cards to shut-ins and to nursing homes, and just being plain helpful.

They also perform good deeds here at school. These girls will do anything from checking your coat at a basketball game to making you a hotdog during halftime. It's all in a day's work.

The Mother's Tea never fails to be a popular and well-attended event. This years was no exception. A large crowd of mothers and daughters watched as girls from the Home Ec. classes modeled their own creations. "Carousel" was the theme of this years tea. Mr. Ric McFadden, choir student teacher, entertained the ladies with a medley of songs from the musical "Carousel". The Lowell High Swing Choir also sang for the pleasure of the crowd. The high point of the tea was of course, the crowning of the May Queen. Wendy Potter was crowned Lowell's May Queen for 1973. The members of the May Court were Marianne Martinsson, Susan Black, Debbie Hufnagel, and Nancy Braden.

If future plans look toward a teaching career or if teaching is only a consideration, F.T.A. offers fun and involvement.

F.T.A. also sponsors those mysterious little elves who tiptoe through the school depositing strange gifts on some lucky teacher.

Every spring, they throw a big breakfast bash for the teachers. The menu includes such goodies as eggs, bacon, arsenic, sausage, cyanide, ham, and rolls with butter.

Another project of F.T.A. is teacher for a day. A time when students learn the perils and frustrations of the teaching profession.

The Home Ec. Club does many things besides stuffing you with goodies and sewing your seams when you split.

Among this year's biggest money-making activities was the selling of mugs and toothbrushes, a very clean, refreshing project. This was a big success with the heavy milk drinkers with dirty teeth.

Other projects were selling cookbooks and calendars. This way a person will not only know what to cook but also on what day he is eating. Sponsoring a float at Homecoming added to the year.

'73 STAFF POTPOURRI OF TALENT

The 1973 Lowellian staff was one of the most versatile in years; and it was a good thing, for the problems that occurred in putting out an unusual yearbook such as the 1973 Lowellian were many. With deadlines coming up all too soon, pictures missing, layouts lost, and copy lying about under everyone's feet, the staff heaved a huge sigh of relief as they finally finished and could go home for the summer.

"This year's book may well be the most difficult ever tried at Lowell," said Lowellian advisor David Hunt. The flip-flop book is a very difficult concept to work with, and all the color in the opening section was awkward to coordinate. All of this was handled very capably by coordinator Kassi Mitchell and next year's chief Debbie Proper. One of the year's brightest spots was the addition of Gina Matury to the staff as head of the Business Dept. She was selected as Most Valuable Staffer of the Year.

MORE THAN VESTS AND VITALITY

The Pep Club is one of the most active clubs at Lowell High School. Besides being in attendance at all basketball and football games, it helps liven up pep sessions with skits, cakes and lively cheering. The Pep Club also ran fund raising drives, including bake-sales (much to the delight of the heavy eaters in the school). Under the direction of sponsor Nancy Reyes the Pep Club had a very successful season.

MRS. HILE IN EARLY RETIREMENT

Mrs. Vivian Hile, pictured above in one of her more typical poses (working directly with a student), was forced into an early retirement this year due to health problems. Mrs. Hile had been teaching at Lowell for the past 15 years. Until leaving she was the chairman of the English Department.

Mrs. Hile's skills in teaching and talking to young people were recognized by her College English students when she left, as shown by the many beautiful flowers and nice gifts she received as tokens of her students' gratitude. Mrs. Hile leaves behind her many followers — her loss is not only felt by the members of the English Department, but by the whole school.

MR. HAM RETIRES AFTER 40 YEARS AT L.H.S.

Mr. George Ham retired from Lowell High School this year following injuries he received in an accidental fall at his home. Mr. Ham has taught typing and business in the Lowell schools for the past 40 years, while running a small suburban newspaper in the evening and after school. During his years in the high school, he also served as yearbook advisor and Supervisor of Business.

Mr. Ham was one of the most popular faculty members for, despite his years, he was always ready to tell a few "stories". Mr. Ham's friends go a long way back in Lowell, as he taught the parents of a great many of our present students. His skill in typing was never questioned (he was a champion typist in his younger days), and he was always ready to help school activities. George Ham will be remembered with fondness in the years ahead — for he was a fine man and a great educator.

SEVENTY-THREE PROM BIG SUCCESS

This year's prom theme was "Colour My World." The Juniors did a fine job producing the prom and post prom ceremonies. Thanks to the junior class's abundant treasury, the prom was held at the After Four Club. This brought some changes to the usual scene as the V.F.W. is the site that most classes pick for this occasion. The high point of the evening was the moment when Alan Roberts and Wendy Potter were crowned as the Prom King and Queen for they year of 1973.

“POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE”

The crowd filled the gymnasium to capacity. Seniors, neatly combed and brushed, marched smiling and happy to the front of the gym. Why is a high school graduation such a big deal? Why are the parents so proud?

A high school graduation represents twelve long years of arduous study, a grind that some cannot endure. The graduate is a member of an elite group. He is ready for the outside world. He has achieved his first great milestone.

This year, Lowell High School saw a new man take the beloved role of Dean. Mr. Sullivan took over the duties of the Dean as Mr. Weiland wanted to make an attempt at educating some of our younger people in the wonders of science. Mr. Druckemiller was again second in command but this was to be the last of Mr. Elbert's five years as commander-in-chief of Lowell High School. This marks the end of a fine career at Lowell as Mr. Elbert was the first principal in the new high school and did an outstanding job of guiding us through the confusion of a new style of school. We're sure that the entire community would like to join Lowell High and the Lowellian staff in thanking Mr. Elbert and wishing him luck with his new school.

HELPING HANDS FROM NAUTICS TO NOVELS

One of the many things a student can find in the Guidance Department is a sympathetic ear when he needs one. Miss Bever, Mr. Perry, and Mrs. Vandermark spend much of their time helping students with their problems, and giving friendly advice as well as straightening out schedules. They also keep track of the students' records, a job in itself. Our counselors are people we could never do without.

Mr. Hupp and his staff offer a number of services to the students and faculty of Lowell High School. Besides running the library, they manage the Materials Production Center, which adds interesting visual aids to many classes. Surely we all should be grateful for such a fine library.

HALF A FROG PLUS HALF A FROG EQUALS A WHOLE FROG!

This year, in order to suit their programs to each student's needs, Mr. Skinner and Mr. Osterloo initiated the testing-out program. Mr. Backe's consumer Math students learned to manage their finances through practical experience. The Math Department also organized a field trip to Chicago for all of the freshmen.

The Science Department offered a varied curriculum. Use of the laboratories provides students with an opportunity to apply what they have learned in the interesting lectures. In Biology, fascinated students dissected starfish. Physics students were encouraged to concentrate on their individual interests, and classes in Earth Science learned about their environments from a trip to the dunes.

PHYSICAL ED. AND BUSINESS DEPTS. FRESH & EXCITING

The Physical Education Department is concerned with encouraging all students to enjoy all kinds of sports. Frank O'Shea, Steve Cusick, and Susan Graham included in their courses this year almost every activity imaginable. Miss Graham's freshmen girls showed the community that Phys. Ed. was much more than softball with a tremendously successful spring P.E. show.

The Business Department offered two new courses this year: Business survey and data processing. Business survey included typing, shorthand, business machines, bookkeeping, clerical record keeping, data processing, basic business, and sales. Students in the Business Department learn many useful skills for the future.

FOUR SCORE AND SEVEN YEARS AGO . . .

1972-73 was a busy year for the Social Studies and Aerospace Education Departments. One project that was a huge success was the Mock Election held by Mr. Wornhoff's American History classes. Two of the Guest speakers at the Election Rally were Sen. Niemeyer and Superintendent Negley. Plans for next year feature the possibility of a freshman elective course and a new minicourse program for American History. Classes in government held trials to dramatize the system used in American courts. Psychology students gave much of their time and effort to making Christmas a lot more merry at Manteno State Hospital. Classes with a new name, Aerospace Education, got an introduction to the Air Force.

IND. ED. HELPS STUDENTS PLAN FUTURES

The Industrial Ed classes provides a student with the opportunity to develop natural skills while gaining knowledge and experience. By using the substantial facilities the school has to offer, a student finds that Lowell is a good training ground for future employment. This year, besides working in auto mechanics, electronics and electricity, woodworking and metal work, the Industrial Ed Club formed a small corporation, called Hilco. Members of the company sold stocks to interested students. Their product, high-intensity lamps made from pop cans, (believe it or not) sold well and the entire undertaking was a success. Another high point during the year was the award received by electronics teacher Robert Hopper. Mr. Hopper was given an award from the state for Meritorious teaching in Industrial Arts.

LA MEAL ES MUY GOOD!

The Foreign Language Department was run by Mrs. Walton, Miss Geller, Mr. Reyes and Mr. Fredrick. They did an excellent job this year and we know that they will continue to do so in the future.

Mr. Fredrick and Mr. Crane also did a good job with the Choir and Band. Both of the groups are something that we should be proud of.

Mr. Ray is the art teacher and has been very helpful in making props for musicals and other school events.

This year, the Home Ec. classes were taught by Miss Smith and Mrs. Bailey. The girls learned how to make dinners "fit for a king".

NEW PROGRAM KEEPS ENGLISH STAFF HOPPING

Much of the entertainment in the English Department this year came from the new minicourse program. How to put grades on report cards? How to figure the honor roll? These problems and others were solved, and the new curriculum was on its feet. To go along with the new courses, the freshmen and the first-semester sophomore courses were completely redone. The purpose of these first three semesters is to give the students the basics they need in the minicourses. In order to accomplish this, freshman and sophomore teachers spent their time cramming spelling, grammar, and literature. It is with a sense of triumph that the English Department announces the survival of the first year of its new curriculum.

When you come to school each day, you see a school that is super clean, and very well taken care of. The credit for this doesn't go to "elves" or any other superhuman beings, but it goes to our loyal custodians. They keep our school looking its best all the time, even when we're out vacationing. We owe them a lot of thanks for all of the work they have done for us this past year.

DEVILS EARN 4-6 RECORD

This year there were many close games; and the best remembered is the double overtime against Merrillville, in which the Devils pulled out to give the crowd an example of that Devil pride and determination that is necessary for any team.

The Devils were mainly a young, inexperienced group, but they came around and never gave up. With the introduction of the triple option, the Devils had to work hard on offense. The coaching staff worked hard to plan out the season and as coach O'Shea would say, "They did a fine job all the way through." This season, as in the past, the coaches produced winners; and the experienced gained this season did nothing but to make them champions in the future.

GIRLS TAKE OVER SPOTLIGHT

Powder Puff time! The girls had been preparing for weeks for this moment, the guys were ready to lead the cheers, and now kick-off time was near. It was a long, hard fought battle, but in the end, the older and more experienced Junior-Senior team emerged victorious! The enthusiastic Freshman-Sophomore team did put in a good effort, being defeated by a mere touchdown.

THINLIES RUN WITH VIGOR!!!

Bank of Indiana Shelby Office Congratulates the class of 1973.

Youth was abundant on this year's Cross Country team, and it prevented the Roadrunners from really excelling. However, the effort put forth by the team helped make up for much of the inexperience. The team had only four runners return from the previous season, and they provided the steadying influence Coach Owenga had hoped for. Dan Rust came through with another super season, and he was aided greatly by Will McClanahan. Just wait, there's always next year.

TWIST AND SHOUT

The boys aren't the only ones who sweat here at Lowell High School. Our cheerleaders worked up quite a sweat this season whether they were practicing or performing. Besides sweat, these girls also acquired hoarse voices and tired feet; but from all their strife, one thing emerged — SPIRIT!

When spirit was at a low ebb, their new cheers and coordinated movements truly gave "pep" to the fans and to the Red Devils —

DEVILS BATTLE HARD BUT LACK EXPERIENCE

After a Sectional championship season in '71-'72, Lowell basketball fortunes took a turn for the worst. In Coach Wiend's first year at the helm the team had a disappointing season. Despite showing a lot of determination and hustle, the roundballers came up with only three wins, one of which was a forfeit. Many of the games were close, hard-fought battles where the experience of the opponents finally won out. Many of the members of the team were not played extensively prior to this season, and at times they made mistakes of inexperience.

Unfortunately these mistakes were too crucial to be offset by the aforementioned hustle and determination. However, injuries to important players, such as Dave Cassman and Dale Kersey, both seniors, also affected the team in a big way.

FEMALE B-BALLERS

Despite being a young team, the girl's basketball team enjoyed a great season. In only their second year of existence the girls roared to a 9-2 record and nearly won the sectional crown, being downed by Gavit in the championship game. And this was all done with a team composed mainly of Sophomores so we can expect better things in the future. Like maybe a state trophy Miss Graham?

WRESTLERS IN A TIGHT HOLD

The wrestling team had a poor season this year with a 2-8 dual meet record. This poor record can be attributed to the lack of experienced wrestlers. However, things are looking brighter. The junior high school now has a wrestling program. This will help tremendously to build a strong team in the future.

WRESTLERS 3RD IN CONFERENCE

Although the team record of 3-9 is not encouraging, the JV Grapplers have improved over the year. The team took 3 out of 8 teams in the Freshman Tournament. This record indicates improvement with an encouraging outlook for a sound team returning next year.

PRACTICE "DOES" MAKE PERFECT!

SWIM TEAM MAKES A WAVE

Starting a swimming team and making it strong is not easy. Just ask the "Uglies" coach, Mr. Sichterman. After three years under the direction of Mr. Sichterman, the team now has all the skill and desire necessary to make a winning team. The team as a whole finished the season with a 4-8 record, with two swimmers qualifying in the sectional finals.

“TURTLES” — BEST YET

Girls' sports are on the rise all over the country, and L.H.S. is no exception. This year's "turtles" swam faster and better than ever before. Under the able direction of Miss Sue Graham, many of our talented girls were able to qualify for the state meet held in Indianapolis. Even though none of these fine athletes was able to bring home a state crown, they all distinguished themselves with fine performances and good attitudes.

GYMNASTS SEEK CHANGES

Change was a big part of the '73 girls' gymnastic season. There were new uniforms, new ideas and tryouts. Susie McLellan worked her way to state competition where she captured the Mental Attitude Award and placed very high in the events. This year was rewarding for the team. Much experience was gained by all, making next year a most promising one for the girls.

STRIVE FOR PRIDE

When a girl is chosen as a cheerleader for the J.V. squad, she may find it hard at times to live up to the expectations and hard work her position holds. This year found Gayle, Lori, Kim, Debbie and alternate Teri Ogborn busy with hours of practice and plans for building up spirit and school pride — not always an easy job. Whether returning next year to become Varsity cheerleaders or not, these girls can help to make '73-4 even better for Lowell High pride.

FROSH SHOW COMING SPIRIT

The pressure of being "rhines" in a school with 800 upperclassmen watching your every move doesn't make spirit an easy thing to come by. This makes the job of a frosh cheerleader even more difficult. But backed by the spirit of the freshman class, Joan, Debbie, Lori and Tammy paved the way for a most successful year at

L.H.S. The squad led the way in obtaining fan busses to nearly every away game, filled them, and were able to build up a large cheer block which attended many games and led to their team's success. We hope they can keep this drive and enthusiasm and continue to be a source of success for Lowell High School.

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP!

Despite our inexperience and youth, this year's team did an outstanding job winning 12 and losing 14. At times, we started as many as three freshman and two sophomores. The future looks bright with ten letterman returning in '74 and only two of this year's seniors gone. One of those seniors, Mike Smith, received a scholarship to Marion College and also provided the highlight of the season by hurling a no-hitter against Merrillville.

This year's Junior Varsity baseball team was largely composed of freshmen. Of the fourteen players that took the field for the J.V.'s, twelve were '76ers. These younger players could hardly be expected to be very competitive against their more seasoned opponents. Their record was a poor 1-10. However, with the experience gained this year and under the instruction of Coach Skvara, they should be a definite force in Lowell baseball in the future.

GIRLS' TRACK TEAM RUNS WILD

A well-coached and well-practiced girls' track team once again ran away from all competitors. Miss Graham's charges finished with one of the best records in the school (except for the other girls' teams). Amy Ruley came through with the best performance when she finished fifth in the half-mile at the state meet. Their past success, plus the fact they only lose one runner through graduation, promises to make next year another winning season.

TRACK SQUAD DEVOTED

Dedication and perseverance were major ingredients in the track team this season. The "Thinclads" record does not tell the whole story of the desire and "moxie" they had. The team was composed largely of Freshmen and Sophomores, and all worked hard to earn a respectable record. The brightest spot was the performance of John Sheets, who competed in sectionals and went on to perform at the regional track meet as one of the areas best sprinters.

Throughout most of the season, seniors Kim Schmidt and Mick Milakovic were medalists (lowest score) for the varsity Linksmen.

FORGOTTEN FACES? NOT REALLY

No matter how good or bad we tried to be those four years, no one escaped Mrs. Bussleburg; the dean's partner in punishment and the world's best admit slip manufacturer is gone, but not forgotten. Our senior class has gone through a lot from our freshman year down to the last day of our senior year. We have so many memories to hold on to. Four long years in a brand new school; looking back and remembering so many faces brings back poignant thoughts.

We, the seniors of '73 have many memories that will linger on long after graduation. Can't you still hear Linda Peterson's music floating through the school and Cindy Bossenburger's clarinet under the direction of Mr. Step? Miss Thompson's whistlesounds throughout the gym though our last years in many seniors and parents could ever forget cheering Klein's teams on through victory and defeat? Who is that lady with the cane? Underclassmen will remember her too, but to the seniors, she means much more. She is Mrs. Hazel Nichols.
